

Have Law Will Travel

I have expanded my practice primarily to Broward, Palm Beach, Dade, Hillsboro and Pinellas Counties, except for adoption cases which I operate state-wide. The greater part of my practice is trusts, probate, estate planning, family and elder law and due to both this economy and my area of specialization, I find it accommodating and convenient to my clients to bring my office to them.

I have closed down my Boca Raton and Ft. Lauderdale offices and as a result, my operating costs are minimal and consequently my fees charged are lower. For years, I have met clients and counseled them in coffee shops, their homes or mine. My wife is my secretary and doing business this way remains cost effective, plus without the concerns and costs of business I am able to concentrate entirely on the business at hand and I am not forced to run off any overhead charges to the client. All charges for travel, subsequent to the first visit, are inclusive in the advanced retainer agreement so there are no surprises.
